DEDICATION

"A think of beauty is a joy forever:
Its loveliness increases; it will never
Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing."

—JOHN KEATS.

WE dedicate the Harding High School Quiver Annual of 1928 to Beauty; to beauty cultivated by sincerity of purpose; to beauty molded by noble thoughts; to beauty perfected by worthy ideals; and to beauty laden with happy memories. May the fullness of the years generously enrich and crown our memories with the unfolded beauty hidden within these pages.

FOREWORD

OURS is a delightful school. We preserve the unusual personalities of our faculty. We reveal the charming features of the 1928 Seniors, and permit a glimpse at those who will follow us. We recite our manifold activities. Our organizations are a delight. The achievements of our athletes are noteworthy. We have remembered those bits of fun which added spice to our happy school days.

Faculty

The old fable that tells of the folly of the searcher for beauty who passed between fields of beautiful flowers without noticing them, because his eyes were on the distant hills, finds ready application in contrasting present day educational philosophy with that of yesterday.

Fortunately, a new philosophy is guiding our present day student life. This new philosophy makes each day an important unit in the individual's program of living.

The Quiver is a reminding record of these days. For the Class of '28, it gives evidence of three years of wholesome citizenship at Harding High School. Graduation will mark no break in this current of citizenship. It no longer divides the preparation period from the practicing period. It is a pleasant occasion for the invoicing of short comings and points of strength.

J. H. Mason.

The Quiver Annual is a cross section of student life in Harding High School. It should prove a source of ever increasing interest, joy and satisfaction to the young men and women who too quickly leave behind happy high school days to join the ranks of the great body of alumni.

Mastery of subject matter is permanent. However, class room experiences, social life, friendships, extra curricular activities, make happy high school days. The Quiver Annual hangs on the walls of memory, golden recollections of these joyful hours. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." More truly might we say of this, it is a replica of treasured days which will grow in value as the years in number.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Another year elapsed and the class of '28 joined the innumerable alumni. These Seniors spent a most successful year under the leadership of the second girl president in the history of the high school, Jane Shelton, and the following other officers: Don Hunter, vice-president; Vivian Rettig, secretary; and Margaret Schlientz, treasurer.

During the year twenty-nine Seniors were eligible for the National Honor Society. They had a prosperous and successful year under these officers: Walter Moore, president; Harold Waddell, vice-president; Cleo Creekbaum, secretary; and Miss Isabel Freer, treasurer. Although the Seniors of '27 thought they had set a precedent which would be hard for the class of '28 to improve upon, the class of '29 will have still more difficulty.

The Seniors of '28 offered another number to the entertainment course and sold enough tickets to have one more number added. A splendid course was presented.

This year as is usual every third year, they chose a new kind of rings and pins. On the shank is the symbol of Ohio. Harding High School is the only school in Ohio that is allowed to have this.

The Senior Play "Smiling Through" was one of the oustanding events of the year. The Seniors had every right to be proud of this production.

A new idea formed this year was the one of having separate editors for the Quiver Junior and Quiver Annual. Robert Elliott was editor of the Quiver Junior and George Stafford was assistant editor. Margaret Schlientz was editor of the Quiver Annual and Genevieve Stowe was assistant editor. Miss Foreman and the journalism classes assisted in both projects.

We reveled in the social, the "kid party," stunt day, the Junior-Senior banquet, and class day; but commencement brought us back to the reality that we were practically out of high school forever and the seriousness of it impressed us deeply.

We were represented in football by Captain Kramer, Evans, Smith, Reiff, Houghton, Lowe, Morrison, Stafford, Wright, Marshall, Lewis and Osterholt.

Contributors to basketball were: Evans, Cline, Cram, Stafford, Lewis, Gillis, Partridge, and Harold Carroll was Senior Student Manager.

Thelma Johnson and Merritt Marshall represented the Seniors in debate.

SENIOR CLASS 1-2-3 YEARS

The Seniors, after passing a hard row of stumps, arrive at the end of their learning at Harding High school. Faintly they remember that day in September, 1925, when they entered Harding as a group of 333, eager for higher knowledge, having gone through the Freshman year with Harold Waddell, president; Samuel Murphy, vice-president; Roberta Roberts, secretary-treasurer; and Cleo Creekbaum, cheer-leader; at Central Junior High; and John Bush, president; Mary Titsworth, vice-president; Ana Beth Pohler, secretary; and Merritt Marshall, treasurer at Vernon Heights.

With the help of the teachers and upper classmen we, as a Sophomore class, were very successfsul in the sale of debate tickets and other projects in which we took an active part. The guiding officers this year were: president, Harold Waddell; vice-president, Edward Houghton; secretary, Vivian Rettig; and treasurer, Shelby Hammond. Dwight Ansley, Charles Kramer, and Edward Houghton answered the '25-'26 football call and received honorable mention. Donald Cram, as captain, led the class in baseball.

On entering the Junior year we earnestly gathered together in West Hall and elected: Edward Houghton, president; George Stafford, vice-president; Vivian Rettig, secretary; and Dorothy Zieg, treasurer, as leaders for the year.

In the fall of 1926, football claimed Edward Houghton, Charles Kramer, and William Lowe on the varsity team, and gave them letters. Charles Kramer was chosen captain for the '27-'28 season.

Next came basketball, and those making the varsity team were Charles Evans, Edward Houghton, John Gillis, and George Stafford. John Gillis and Charles Evans received letters, while Stafford received honorable mention.

"So This Is London," a three-act comedy, was given as the Annual Junior Play. Genevieve Stowe and George Stafford took the leading parts.

In order to create more interest, a "hard time" party was given April 22, and proved to be a decided success.

JUNIOR CLASS

After having been led through our Freshman year at Central Junior High by James Reed, and at Vernon Heights by Frederick Merchant, we entered Harding as Sophomores.

We elected the following officers for our first year at Harding: Clyde Wendell, president; Frederick Merchant, vice-president; Mary Josephine Stafford, secretary; and Vance Harden, treasurer.

During the football season, Orville Garrett and Richard McAninch were our only candidates who received letters. These same varsity football men were our representatives on the basketball team.

At the beginning of this year we elected for our officers the following: John Waddell, president; Vance Harden, vice-president; Mary Josephine Stafford, secretary; and Gerald Zimmer, treasurer.

Again at the call of football we responded with Orville Garrett, Richard McAninch, Gerald Zimmer, William Keller, Dwight Ansley, Basil Williams, Claude Perry, and John Peacock, all letter men. Again Orville Garrett, Richard McAninch and William Keller were the only Juniors to receive basketball letters, although Victor Gillis received honorable mention.

We were well represented on the debate squad by Jane Guthery, Lenore Bondley, James Reed, and Elizabeth Staker.

Our progress in the dramatic field was increased by presenting three one-act plays, "Romance of the Willow Pattern," "Joint Owners in Spain," and "The Grill," on December 14 and 15. The scenery used in the first play mentioned was painted by members of our class and faculty.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

Cooperating with their class officers, President, Richard Cheney; Vice President, Edward Ruzzo; Secretary, Violet Doll; and Treasurer, James Barker; they contributed their loyal support to every activity of Harding High.

The Sophomore Class presented two good assemblies, consisting of Sophomores only. They contributed two football players of second string caliber, and many third and fourth stringers; while one sophomore made the basket-ball squad. Both alternates of our debate teams were sophomores, and thirty-five percent of the members of the track team were sophomores.

Besides supplying the masculine fields with material the Sophomore Class furnished many girls for the orchestra and Girl's Glee club. They also furnished a large number of boys for the Boy's Glee club.

This year's sophomores have been as loyal and have upheld the tradition of the school as well, if not better, than any other sophomore class.

THE VOCATIONAL CLASS HISTORY

The Vocational Department of Harding High school was organized in 1921.

The purpose of this department is to prepare young men for a life of useful and honest application in an industrial pursuit.

Due to the fact that this course demands the very best efforts of the students taking it, candidates for the course are carefully studied in their Freshman year and no student who is deficient, careless, incorrigible or otherwise subnormal is permitted to enter the course.

The students who are eligible to take the course must in their Sophomore year, spend at least 50% of their school time on practical shop projects; 35% on related subjects such as mathematics, mechanical drawing, sciences, and other subjects which are directly related to their industrial vocation; and 15% on civics, English, and history.

The boys get their first actual experience in the machine shops of the high school and later in local industrial organizations. Mr. L. H. Rieker, the co-ordinator, visits different Marion industries and secures usually a month's production for the shop. The same limits of accuracy are attained as in practical industry, as all material finished must pass the inspection department of the factory to which it is returned. All money received for this work is used to purchase additional supplies and equipment for the school shops.

Once a year the department has a "shop night," on which the parents and friends of the students are permitted to examine the works of some friend and to see the progress they have made along such lines as pattern making, mechanical drawing, and machine shop work.

COOPERATIVE HISTORY

In order to place the Vocational Department in closer contact with industry, a cooperative plan has been established. This plan permits vocational students in the eleventh and twelfth years to work two weeks and go to school two weeks; by alternating two boys on each machine they furnish the company with constant service. If industrial conditions do not permit cooperation in the eleventh year, the program is continued as it was in the tenth year, that is, the student is assigned three hours each day in the school shop, and the remainder of the day in related and civic instruction.

The cooperating students do not have school shop work during the cooperative course, but they are given more related and civic subjects per day than the average student while they are in school.

Many of the boys are employed at the Marion Steam Shovel Company where a regular apprenticeship course is conducted. The student who is placed in this company in his eleventh or twelfth year is able to complete one or two years' actual work while he is still in school; then, with two more years of apprenticeship work they receive a diploma from the company which rates them as full fledged machinists.

The other factories, however, have another plan for their cooperative students. It is as follows:

The student receives a certain wage per hour, and the company deposits a sum equal to half of the said sum in the Building and Loan Company as a trust fund. The aforesaid trust fund will be paid to the student upon graduation, but if the student should fail to graduate this fund goes to the Vocational Department.

This year there are 28 boys cooperating with the various factories in the city. They are:

VERNON HISTORY

Robert Bush, president; Mary Guthery, vice-president; Mozelle McElheney, secretary, and Jean Berg, treasurer, comprised the officers that led Vernon through one of her most successful years both in athletics and scholarship.

The clubs organized during the year were: Science Club, sponsored by Mr. Alwyn Crane; the History Club, sponsored by Mrs. Ferne West; Girls' Glee Club and Boys' Glee Club, both sponsored by Mr. Howard M. Temple. The Science Club was wholly dependent on scholarship, being composed of the A and A+ students in elementary Science. The History Club was composed of the entire Ancient History class, and its object was to do research work on art, dramatics, games, etc., of ancient Greeks and Romans. The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs featured in entertainment for various assemblies and community clubs.

The outstanding social activity was a Hallowe'en party, which presented a gay and picturesque color for the first quarter of the year. After Thanksgiving, basketball was begun with many fierce battles, and finally ended with a determined and apparent success. A play, "The Birds' Christmas Carol," was given before the Christmas holidays. An operetta, "The Windmills of Holland," was presented in February at the Central Junior High Auditorium, directed by Miss Lela Brookshire and Miss Irene Epler.

"What is social company

What our wise philosophy
But the glancing of a dream?"

ORCHESTRA

The Harding High orchestra this year, with Mr. Temple as director, has completed its fifth anniversary in a most successful fashion.

In school activities it played for the Entertainment Course numbers, Junior play, Debate, the Senior play, and also for a convention of the Parent-Teachers Association.

In the spring at the Chautauqua pavilion, it appeared with the Band and Glee Clubs in the annual concert. It finally closed the year at the Commencement exercises.

The officers were as follows: president, Edward Sloan; vice-president, William Guthery; secretary, Harold Rider; librarian, Martha McGee; assistant librarian, Dorotha Creasap; and concert mistress, Anna von Endt.

NEGATIVE DEBATE TEAM

This year's debate team won one and lost one debate. It showed its prowess over the affirmative team at the Marion Rotary Club and bowed in defeat to Galion High School.

The members of the team were Thelma Johnson, first speaker; James Reed, second speaker; Jane Guthery, third spaker; and Howard Butler, alternate.

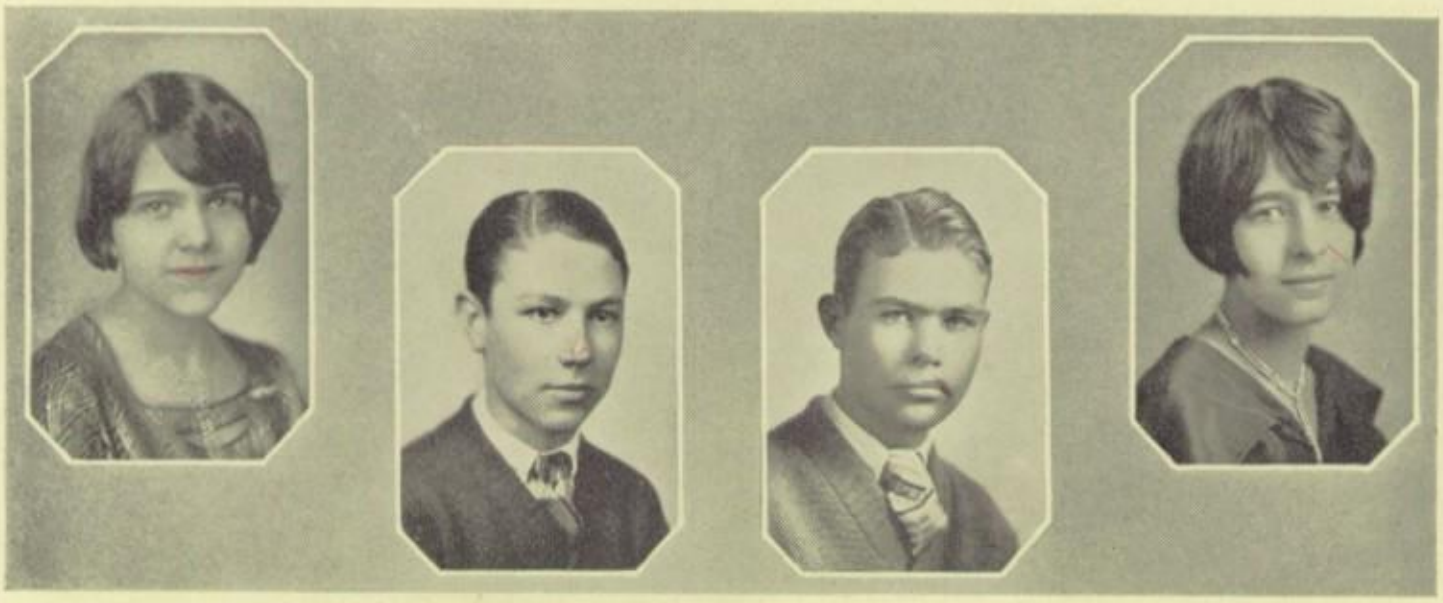
The question debated upon was: "Resolved that classification of property should be adopted in Ohio in place of the present uniform rule of taxation."

Due to the energy and extensive research of Thomas D. Bain, debate coach, the team put forth a fine constructive case defending the uniform rule of taxation.

Thomas D. Bain was the person who made debate possible this year. He untiringly gave his time to do research work and aid in writing speeches to make the constructive cases of both teams as strong as possible. This is Mr. Bain's second year as debate coach of Harding High School.

Members of this debate team were entirely new debaters for Harding High. Thelma Johnson had some experience before coming to Harding but James Reed, Jane Guthery and Howard Butler demonstrated for the first time their forensic ability. This team will suffer the loss of one person who dons the cap and gown this spring, Thelma Johnson.

Speakers on this team gained enough points to become members of the National Forensic League, honorary debate society. It is gained by the comparative merit of the speakers in participating in forensic contests. It is always the happy ending of a debate season.



E. Staker W. McElroy M. Marshall L. Bondley

AFFIRMATIVE DEBATE TEAM

It defeated Delaware High School with a decision of two to one, while it lost to the local negative team three to nothing, and to Mansfield two to one.

The team consisted of Lenore Bondley, first speaker; Elizabeth Staker, second speaker; Merritt Marshall, third speaker; and Walter McElroy, alternate.

Thomas D. Bain also coached this debate team, and it was through his efforts that the local team defeated Delaware High School for the first time in seven years.

All members on this team secured enough points to gain membership in the National Forensic League, with Lenore Bondley receiving the second degree.

The team will suffer the loss of one speaker this year, the third speaker Merritt Marshall, who graduates this year.

As only two members of both debate teams are graduating this year, Mr. Bain has a fine framework for for next year's team.

Business organizations in Marion took interest in the debate teams and entertained them in return for the students giving a debate.

Lenore Bondley is the only experienced debater on this team. She participated in Harding High's debates last year as first speaker. She still has one more year at Harding.

The affirmative upheld that a classification method of taxation should be adopted in Ohio, in all of their debates.

Thomas D. Bain made it possible for the members of the affirmative to hear tax authorities speak to gain as much information as possible about the question.

SMILIN' THROUGH

"Smilin' Through," a romantic comedy in a prologue and three acts, by Allen Langdon Martin, was presented by the Senior class at the Grand Theater May 23, afternoon and evening, under the direction of Miss Lucile Foreman.

The scene is laid in a lovely English garden, about 1914.

In the prologue, the spirits of Mary Clare, the mother of Kathleen, and Sarah Wayne, the mother of Kenneth, are looking into the garden lamenting that there is so much hate in the heart of John Carteret because of the sorrow and tragedy of the past.

In the first scene, Kenneth comes into the garden to say goodbye to Kathleen as he is going to war. He is told by John Carteret to leave. When Kenneth is gone, Carteret tells Kathleen why he has made the decision.

In the second scene, fifty years before, the wedding night of John Carteret and Moonyeen Clare is portrayed. Jeremiah Wayne, the defeated rival, tries to shoot John, but Moonyeen is killed instead. He escapes, and Moonyeen dies, telling John that she will be waiting for him at the gate.

The third scene reverts to later times, 1918. Kenneth comes home from the war, crippled. After a heated argument with Dr. Owen, John Carteret gives Kenneth permission to marry Kathleen. That night Moonyeen comes to the garden and calls John beyond the gates of eternity.

Miss Priscilla Smith's Domestic Art girls made the flowers; the scenery came from Armbruster's, and the costumes from Emilie Sullivan Company, both in Columbus.

The cast was:

Sarah Wayne	Ana Beth Pohler	Kathleen Dungannon	Anna von Endt
Mary Clare	Mary Titsworth	Willie Ainley	Edward Sloan
John Carteret	Robert Elliott	Kenneth Wayne	George Stafford
Dr. Owen Harding	Robert George	Jeremiah Wayne	George Stafford
Ellen	Margaret Schlientz	Moonyeen Clare	Anna von Endt

Wedding Guests: Edna Kesselring, Elma Sage, Gertrude Giddings, Eleanore Pfeiffer, Donald Hunter, Hugh Wright, Walter Moore, and William Guthery.

THE JUNIOR PLAY

An entirely new plan was successfully worked out in this year's Junior play, given at the Central Junior High Auditorium December 14 and 15. Instead of one long play, three one-act plays were given. In order to give more students an opportunity to appear, double casts were used, with the exception of "The Grill" which used the same cast both nights.

The first play was "Romance of the Willow Pattern" by Ethel Beekman Vau der Veer. The play was done in the Chinese manner with very little but attractive scenery. The costumes used were from the Emilie Sullivan Costume Company at Columbus, Ohio.

The casts were as follows:

The second play, "Joint Owners in Spain," was a character comedy by Alice Brown. It told the story of two very queer old ladies in the old ladies' home who drew a chalk-line through their room to make two separate houses.

Those taking part were as follows:

Mrs. Mitchell, Mary Jo Stafford, Jane Bradley; Mrs. Fullerton, Betty Brown, Dorothy Mackan; Miss Dyer, Shirley May Clagett, Margaret Forry; Miss Blair, Dorothy Bush, Jane Guthery.

The third play, "The Grill," by George Woodruff Johnston, was an exciting mystery play. The theft of valuable papers was discovered by Trent, the District Attorney, who traced the theft to the guilty person.

The cast was as follows:

The Maid, Jean McLean; Trent, District Attorney, Vance Harden; Alice, his wife, Evelyn Bachelder; Commissioner of Police, James Reed.

The three plays were coached by Miss Lucile Foreman while John Waddell acted as stage manager and Julian Walker, assistant stage manager. Faculty business manager, E. H. Shade; student business manager, Robert Hochstetter; and assistant student manager, Homer Messenger; and advertising managers, Veda Walsh and James Shipley.

The blue draperies used in the Chinese play were designed and made by Miss Smith's Domestic Art classes while the screens and platform were built by Mr. Rensch and the boys of the Vocational Department.

MAY FESTIVAL

"The Conflict" adapted from Longfellow's poem "Pandora" was the name of the May Festival which was held afternoon and evening May 9. It was a Health Masque in which the sophomores, juniors, and seniors reveled in the rhythm dances. Under Miss Rachael McAfee's capable direction, "The Conflict" has been surpassed by no other May Festival in previous years.

Pandora, beautifully exemplified by Thelma Barton, typified the theme of the poem.

Preceding the dances the May Queen, Katherine Eymon, gorgeously arrayed in a gown of gold cloth with rhinestone crown was crowned by her Maid of Honor, Mary Titsworth, who wore a gown of silver cloth as a contrast. The Attendants of the Queen were: Virginia Heffelfinger, Dorothy Zieg, Thelma Barton, and Helen Ward who were dressed in period gowns in combinations of rose and green gold, and pink and blue silver. In white Russian ballet costumes, the following girls participated in the processional: Alice Artopoeus, Hazel Barkley, Marian Baker, Helen Bryan, Virginia Bachman, Dorotha Creasap, Cleo Creekbaum, Margretta Curl, Helen Carhart, Naomi Doyle, Selma Welch, Pauline Foreman, Gertrude Giddings, Ruth Hageman, Irene Oborn, Eleanor Pfeiffer, Ana Beth Pohler, Roberta Roberts, Ruth Sycks, Elma Sage, Lucille Schindler, Jane Shelton, Genevieve Stowe, Margaret Schlientz, Martha Trott, Martha Tschanen and Leora Thompson.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Under the supervision of Mr. H. M. Temple the Girls' Glee Club of Harding High has had a very prosperous year.

The Glee Club sang for the convention of the Parent-Teacher's Association. A Spring concert was given by the club and it proved to be a decided success.

The club sang in public several times during the year to show the people the type of work they are doing. Within the next few years Mr. Temple hopes to be able to meet one period a day. The club now has but one meeting a week. This is on Thursday the eighth period.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

At the beginning of the school year Mr. Howard Temple, music supervisor of Marion, Ohio, issued a call for boys who were interested in singing. To this response about twenty-five boys were united to form a boys' glee club.

This year the boys' Glee Club has improved greatly over last year's and hopes to improve each year as long as the club is organized.

Among the following are some organizations at which the club appeared, namely, Parent-Teacher's Association Convention, Assemblies, and Spring Concert. The music given was greatly enjoyed.

THE QUIVER JUNIOR

The weekly publication, called the Quiver Junior of Harding High School, has had a very successful year, both in a financial way and in the projects put forth. This has been due to the editor, Robert Elliott, with the cooperation of the students of Journalism under the leadership of Miss Lucile Foreman, teacher of Journalism.

The Quiver Carnival, an annual activity under the supervision of Journalism students, proved to be a success. Much recognition must be given to the Sophomores who gave their aid to the Carnival along with the other students.

In the drive for Quiver Junior subscriptions, a beauty contest was staged in which each room was given the name of a state. Miss Indiana, the home room of Miss Edith Brown, won the prize with a percent of 96.

THE QUIVER ANNUAL

The Quiver Annual this year was edited on an entirely new plan. There were different editors for the Annual and for the Quiver Junior. Margaret Schlientz was the first one to hold this unique position, the first girl editor in the history of Harding High.

The work on the Annual began early in the year, and the Annual was issued before school closed. All work was done with the cooperation of the Journalism classes and under the supervision of Miss Lucille Foreman. Several of Miss Shaw's students from the commercial departments assisted with the typing. They were Vera Foos, Carrie Foweler, Vivian Brown, Mary Wires, Meriam Williamson, Eula Bain, Marie Williamson, Evelyn Behrens, Gertrude Snyder, Dorothy Wilson, Martha Howison, and Jane Guthery.

The usual price, $2.00 was asked, and the subscription drive, in the hands of the Journalism classes, resulted in a number of sales. Later the Salesmanship classes greatly increased the number by a campaign and a contest among themselves. A unique plan was used to pay for the Annual. Four installments made the purchase of an Annual easier for a number of students.

HARDING HIGH BAND

"Spirit" and "loyalty" are words that rightfully describe the Harding High band at Football and Basketball games.

These were responsible for the band being at Galion and Ashland, despite the unpleasant weather.

The band also took part in the Annual concert along with the Orchestra and Glee Clubs.

Mr. H. M. Temple, music instructor and director of the band, was responsible for a large part of the success. He was aided by the following officers: William Guthery, assistant director and President; Edward Sloan, Vice-President; Walter Davis, secretary; and Glen Duffey, librarian.

ORGANIZATION

"Comrades, gird your swords to-night,
For the battle is with dawn.
Oh, the clash of shields together
With the triumph coming on!
Greet the foe
And lay him low,
When strong men fight together."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The highest honor which Harding High School can bestow upon students in the school is that of membership in the National Honor Society.

This year eligible members were voted on by each teacher in the high school. However, the final decision was made by a committee of teachers, elected by the Senior class of 1925, with some additions made by K. H. Marshall, who felt that it should be representative of all the departments of the school.

Fifteen per cent of the Senior class and five per cent of the Junior class are eligible for membership. In the first semester ten per cent of the Senior class was chosen, and in the second semester the remaining five per cent of the Seniors and five per cent of the Juniors were chosen.

The selection is based on the four cardinal principles of the Society: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service.

The members chosen in the first semester were:

This group elected as their officers: Walter Moore, president; Harold Waddell, vice-president; Cleo Creekbaum, secretary; and Miss Isabel Freer, treasurer.

The members chosen in the second semester were:

Juniors—Evelyn Bachelder, Lenore Bondley, Margaret Forry, Jane Guthery, Frederick Merchant, Mary Jo Stafford, Elizabeth Staker, John Waddell.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The National Forensic League is an honorary society for students of debate. It is necessary to secure ten points to become a member of this society.

At the beginning of this year, there was only one member, but since debate season opened, the speakers of the debate teams and Thomas D. Bain, coach, have become members.

Officers this year are: Jane Guthery, president; Lenore Bondley, vice-president; and Elizabeth Staker, secretary and treasurer.

For every debate won, twelve points are awarded, for every one lost, six points.

All members have the first degree or the degree of Merit, except Lenore Bondley, who has the second degree, or the degree of Honor.

The league standings according to the number of points of each member are: Lenore Bondley, 36; Merritt Marshall, 27; Elizabeth Staker, 24; Jane Guthery, 20; Thomas D. Bain, 18.7; Thelma Johnson, 18; and James Reed, 18.

This organization is one of the most difficult in the school in which to gain membership. It is only for those students who have shown their respective merits in forensic contests.

There are four degrees which can be obtained. The degree of Merit, requiring ten points; the degree of Honor, requiring thirty points; the degree of Excellence, requiring sixty points; and the degree of Distinction, requiring one hundred points. There is an excellent chance for some members to get another degree next year.

HARDING HI-Y

The Harding Hi-Y Club is composed of boys from the junior and senior classes who have combined themselves into a club, the purpose of which is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character."

This year the organization has made the club a financial success by selling score cards and sandwiches at the football games, and later in the year klondikes and candy at the basketball games. A Hallowe'en banquet was given for the members and their girl friends, while later in the year the club gave a union banquet together with the junior Hi-Y clubs. A banquet was also given for the basketball lettermen, and another party was given in April for the members and their girl friends.

During the year the club sent representatives to the Hi-Y conference at Findlay and Massilon, and they put on a pep assembly during the football season. Mr. Donald Burson, former Y. M. C. A. secretary, was the leader at the beginning of the year but due to his removal to another location, Rev. H. F. Weckmueller, pastor of the First Reform Church, was secured and has led the club in a very successful year.

The members of the club are:

The Sophomore Hi-Y, now in it's second year, is gradually growing in ideals and membership. The club started it's career in 1926-1927 as three organizations; the Vernon Heights and two Central Junior Hi-Y's. The Vernon boys were under the leadership of Principal R. A. Garvin with Richard Cheney as president. The Central Junior clubs were supervised by Dr. H. S. Rhu and Mr. Dewey Bohyer, with Dwight Bargar and Eddie Ruzzo as respective presidents.

At the beginning of their Sophomore year the three clubs dissolved into two with Mr. Fletcher of the Marion Star and Mr. Kenneth Kerr as leaders and Robert Knauss and Eddie Ruzzo filling the president's office.

The list of members are:

The Industrial Research Club was organized in 1925, in order to inspire and extend a higher standard of scholarship among the Vocational students; to create a fellowship tending to induce interest; and to provide a means by which leadership may be exercised and promoted.

The highest one-third of the class in scholarship are eligible to membership in this club. An intensive survey throughout the United States has been made, and it has been found that this is the only Industrial club of its kind existing in the high schools.

Their activities this year consisted of talks based on industry, given by various vocationalists and business men, usually followed by moving pictures. A program was also presented by the Oakland Sports Club Male Quartette.

With Mr. Rensch, Mr. Rieker, Mr. Smith and Mr. Todd as faculty advisors and Lawrence Zuspan, as president; Floyd Bowman, vice-president; and Charles Knackel as scribe, the club spent a very successful year.

The members are:

VARSITY "H" CLUB

The Harding High Varsity "H" Club was organized two years ago for the purpose of confining the wearing of letters to men who earned them by participating in high school sports. It does not advocate the giving of letters by Junior High Schools.

The Club did not reorganize until late in the 1927-1928 school year. The officers elected were: President, Charles Kramer; Vice-President, John Gillis; Secretary-Treasurer, Charles Evans. Coach Allen E. Compton is the faculty advisor of the club.

The following are members of the club and sports in which they won their letter:

Basketball: Orville Garrett, Chalmer Cline, John Gillis, Richard McAninch, Lawrence Partridge, William Keller, George Stafford, Donald Cram, Marion Lewis, and Charles Evans.

LE PETIT SALON

The honorary French society, Le Petit Salon, is sponsored by Miss Isabel Freer and Miss Ruth Starr. It is composed of all students who receive a grade of 90 or above in second year French.

The purpose of this club is to create an interest as well as to instruct the students concerning France and its surroundings. All business and conversation of the meetings is carried on in French. A meeting was held every three weeks at the home of some member.

A program is presented at each meeting. Some of the features have been: the baby pictures of each member and famous pictures of France shown by the use of the lantern slides; two plays, "Une Ecole de France" and "La Famille de Ruggles." At a Christmas party each person received a gift which in turn was given to the Marion County Children's Home.

To obtain membership the senior student must receive a grade of A or A+. The enrollment of this year's club was one of the largest of any year, showing the growing interest in shorthand.

The word Tironian came from the name Tyro, a Greek slave of Cicero's. Later in Tyro's life he was given his freedom and became Cicero's private secretary.

Two meetings every month and a banquet were held during the year.

PRESS CLUB

The Press Club consists of all students who have taken Journalism during their junior or senior year. The club was organized by the class of 1925 for the purpose of promoting and improving the Quiver Junior and the Quiver Annual. Later it has been the medium of bringing the Journalism students into closer contact with newspapers and newspaper men.

Every year since its organization a Quiver Carnival has been held near the Hallowe'en season. The proceeds of this carnival are applied to the expense of printing the annual.

A number of meetings were held during class periods of the year in which newspaper workers were brought before the class. Among the speakers were: Murray Powers and R. F. Fletcher of the Marion Star and Sam Brown, a former journalism student of Harding.

A social affair brought the Press Club to a successful close when guests and faculty were entertained.

The club consisted of student representatives from each home room. In the year of '27 and '28 their combined efforts aided several activities with marked success. YE MERRIE PLAYERS

Ye Merrie Players is the dramatic society of Harding High School. All those are eligible who have taken any part in the production of the Junior or Senior play.

Each year it is customary for a dinner to be given for the Ye Merrie Players. At this time the new students are initiated as members of the club.

The club elected as officers for the year: Jane Guthery, president; Donald Hunter, vice-president; Evelyn Bachelder, secretary; and Mary Jo Stafford, treasurer.

Three of the members of Ye Merrie Players are on the high school faculty, namely Mildred Crow, Mary Pennock, and Helen Jacoby. However, they still retain their membership in the club.

Miss Lucile Foreman sponsers the club and directs all the plays. Her productions include "Stop Thief," a Junior play; "So This Is London," also a Junior play; and "Smilin' Through," the Senior play presented by the class of '28. This year instead of giving a three-act play, three one-act plays were given. These plays were quite different in character and were very entertaining. "The Romance of the Willow Pattern Plate" was a Chinese play. "Joint Owners in Spain" portrayed life in an old ladies' home and "The Grill," a mystery play, were the other plays chosen. Miss Foreman also used a double cast for "The Romance of the Willow Pattern Plate" and "Joint Owners in Spain," a new departure in Harding High School.

The members of Ye Merrie Players include:

The officers this year are: Katherine Eymon, President; Roberta Roberts, Vice President; Dorothy Zieg, Secretary; and Cleo Creekbaum, Treasurer.

The Kinesian Club formed the processional in the May Festival. The May Queen, Maid of Honor and attendants were chosen from this group of girls.

Wright Evans Zimmer Stafford

HUGH WRIGHT, End

Hugh, Harding's substitute end, was every ready, waiting his chance. When it came, how he did take advantage of it! Hugh says good-bye to Harding this year.

CHARLES EVANS, Center

Charlie Evans, Harding's scrappy center, will be lost to the Red and Black by graduation this year. Charlie could always be depended on to "hold that line."

GERALD ZIMMER, Guard

Zimmer played a snappy game at guard on the regulars this season. He will be with us next year to keep on with the good work.

GEORGE STAFFORD, Fullback

Harding's "fighting fullback" though small for his position, made up for this in his ability to hit the line. Stafford could always be depended upon for a gain. When that yard was needed for first down, Stafford was the one to take it over. Yes, he graduates.

DONALD REIFF, Tackle

Don's reward for three years of faithful fighting was a regular berth at tackle this year. Sorry, but graduation claims Don this spring.

CHARLES KRAMER, Guard

Charles Kramer, popularly called "Tubby," captained the Red and Black football warriors through their 1927 season. "Tubby" was changed from center to guard position, which he filled like a "Rock of Gibraltar." He could always be depended upon to give his best for Harding.

Reiff Kramer

Marshall Williams Keller Ansley

MERRITT MARSHALL, Guard

Although only a substitute, Merritt was a hard hitting, dependable guard; no matter how stiff the opposition, he always got his man. Yes, cap and gown.

BASIL WILLIAMS, Guard

"Fat" Williams has been playing guard on the second team for two years. "Fat" received his letter this year and will be out for football again next year.

WILLIAM KELLER, Center

"Bill" Keller played center this year on the second team, winning his letter for duty on the field. He will be back next year for the Red and Black .

DWIGHT ANSLEY, Tackle

For three years, Ansley has been tackle on the regulars. He always gets his man. Ansley will be back in uniform next year.

EDWARD HOUGHTON, Halfback

Ed has always been known for his ability in getting under passes. He was on the squad three years, and has played on the regulars for two years. This was Ed's last year.

WILLIAM LOWE, Quarterback

Playing his third year as quarterback, Lowe showed in every game that he was a field general supreme. It was his heady work that gained Harding many a touchdown. Lowe is another man who dons the cap and gown this spring. In four years he has not missed a practice.

Houghton Lowe

Peacock Morrison Osterholt Perry

JOHN PEACOCK, Tackle

Johnney, Harding's substitute tackle, played like a well seasoned veteran whenever given the opportunity. He will be back at school next year. Watch his smoke!

OSMOND MORRISON, Quarterback

Morrison's speed and dependability more than make up for his lack of weight. Bus has played his last game for Harding High.

CHARLES OSTERHOLT, End

"Chuck," although hampered by lack of weight, proved that he had grit and fight by always stopping everything they attempted to send around his end. Yes, but he's a dignified senior.

CLAUDE PERRY, End

Perry played end this year on the second team, breaking into a good many games and winning his letter. Great works will be expected of him next year.

HAROLD WADDELL, Football Manager

The fellow who was always on deck, working all the time for the squad was Manager Harold Waddell. Faithful service for three years won "Bill" his letter this year.

DEWEY BOHYER
Coach

IRVIN H. SHADE, Faculty Manager

Mr. Shade, Chemistry instructor and business manager of all occasions is an essential part of Harding High School affairs. Besides initiating students in chemistry, he sells tickets, reserves seats, and handles the money in all school activities.

COACH BOHYER

Mr. Bohyer's fine coaching combined with his good fellowship and ability to keep a high spirit among the boys, enabled him to develope one of the fastest and best cooperating teams in the history of Harding High School.

CHEER LEADERS

Jane Smith, Robert George, Francis Blake, Howard Bailey, and Edgar Hastings as cheer leaders for Harding High School had a very successful season. The efficient cheer leading of these people helped both basketball and football teams to play harder and to win.

FOOTBALL GAMES

Harding ..... 19 Upper Sandusky 0

The Harding Hi gridders easily won their first game this season by defeating Upper 19-0. Harding's touchdowns were scored in the first, third, and fourth quarters.

Harding ..... 13 Galion 6

The Harding boys proved themselves better pigs than the Galion boys by wallowing through mud knee deep and blinding rain to a 13-6 victory.

Harding ..... 7 Findlay 0

Harding's eleven nearly met their match in Findlay, but not quite. The first three quarters were scoreless, but in the last quarter Harding scored from a fake play.

Harding ..... 19 Ashland 6

The fast aerial attack launched by the Harding eleven proved too much for the Ashland gridders. The former scored three touchdowns and a point and the latter only by one touchdown.

Harding Reserves ..... 12 La Rue 6

The Reserves played a very fast brand of football against La Rue this year. The Reserves scored a touchdown each half.

Bucyrus ..... 12 Harding 0

Harding gridders received their first defeat from the fast Bucyrus eleven. Bucyrus flashed a spectacular passing and running attack that tore down the red and black defense for a 12-0 victory.

Harding ..... 7 Mansfield 6

The Harding eleven proved a shade better than the Mansfield eleven in their annual clash this year. Harding scored one touchdown and the point after touchdown and Mansfield only made the touchdown.

Harding ..... 32 Delaware 0

Harding Hi took easy victory over Delaware grid-squad. The reserves gave a very creditable demonstration of football, playing most of the game and pulling in three touchdowns.

Harding ..... 0 Shelby 7

Harding and Shelby played a tight and scoreless game for the first three quarters but in the fourth quarter a Shelby man recovered a Harding fumble behind the goal line. "Too bad."

COACH COMPTON

Coach Allen E. Compton came to Harding High from Wittenberg two years ago. Stepping right into action in the beginning of the 1927 athletic season, he proceeded to whip a basket ball team into shape that went to the finals in the district tournament.

This year, with practically the same team, a successful season was completed under the leadership of Coach Compton.

Much credit is due him for his excellent coaching.

HAROLD CARROLL, Basketball Manager

Harold Carroll was the man behind the water bucket for the cagers. Harold has worked hard and faithfully for three seasons and was rewarded this year with a red and black H.

Cline Gillis Stafford Partridge

"CHAUNCEY" CLINE

"Chauncey" although only a substitute played a bang-up good game of basketball this year. Alas and alack he leaves us this spring.

"JOHNNIE" GILLIS

Another three year man served Harding this year as general utility man, in other words he played any place he was needed. He leaves us this spring.

"DUCKY" STAFFORD

"Abie's" understudy displayed a fast, scrappy, snappy game of basketball at every opportunity. "Ducky" has played his last game for Harding.

"BUDDY" PARTRIDGE

Lack of experience seemed to keep "Buddy" out of the first few games but later in the season he was used more "and how." Yes, "Buddy" leaves us this spring.

"ORV" GARRETT

"Orv" completed his third year as forward for Harding as the scrappiest forward in North Central Ohio. "Orv" gets to make it four.

Keller Evans Cram

"BILL" KELLER

Our quiet hefty who spent a good deal of his time on the bench, but who, while in the fray tied down his man. Watch for him next year.

"CHUCK" EVANS

"Orv's" running mate earned a good name for himself due to his excellent shooting and brilliant floor work. The long grey gets "Chuck."

"BUD" CRAM

Although this was "Bud's" first year as a varsity center, he was one of Harding's best shots and proved seventh best shot at the tournament at Delaware. Good-bye "Bud."

"ABIE" LEWIS

Headwork was a great help to Harding this year. The difficult task will be to find a man capable of filling "Abie's" guard position next year.

"DICK" McANINCH

The only Harding cager to make the all-tournament team this year, played an exceptionally good game at guard. He'll be back for more next year.

BASKETBALL GAMES

Harding ..... 7 Columbus Central 25

The opening game of the season saw a green Harding team fall before a veteran Columbus Central aggregation 25-7. "Wildcat" Garrett was high scorer with 3 points.

Harding ..... 31 Alumni 21

Thirteen members of the Red and Black squad helped to defeat the grads in their annual battle. The game ended 31-21 with McAninch scoring 14 points.

Harding ..... 23 Lima Central 37

Harding took one of its longest trips of the season to visit Lima Central only to fall before a big rangey team 37-23. Bud Cram went hot for the Red and Black.

Harding ..... 17 Mansfield 18

The Big Red from Mansfield defeated the Compton men 18-17 in the fastest game played all season at the home court. Tough Luck Boys.

Harding ..... 23 Bucyrus 11

Harding secured a good lead early in the game which was never threatened by the Bucyrus boys. In the second and fourth quarters the Harding reserves were used. The final score was 23-11.

Harding ..... 19 Springfield 29

Springfield played a fast game the first half and piled up a score that the Harding boys were unable to equal although they fought like Trojans.

Harding ..... 22 Delaware 19

Although Delaware was slated as not so good Harding defeated them by only three points. The game was close and hard fought.

Harding ..... 22 Galion 16

Harding defeated Galion in a loosely played contest by a score of 22-16. Harding took the lead in the first quarter and led to the final whistle.

Harding ..... 24 Ashland 25

This was one of those hard games to lose. The game was a see-saw affair with first one side and then the other ahead. It just happened that Ashland had the saw when the gun cracked.

Harding ..... 15 Shelby 14

Harding overbalanced the scales one point over Shelby this year in their annual cage classic. No one was sure of themselves until the game ended.

Harding ..... 28 Steele 16

Harding playing a tight defence and a superhuman offence defeated the well trained machine representing Steele High of Dayton by a score of 28-16.

Harding ..... 26 Delaware 17

In Harding's second game with Delaware everyone on Harding seemed to open up.

Harding ..... 23 Aquinas 11

Harding easily took their first tournament game this year from Aquinas Hi of Columbus by a score of 23-11 and thus earned the right to play Columbus South.

Harding ..... 28 Columbus South 32

Harding was nosed out of the tournament this year by Columbus South. The South boys piled up a big lead in the first half and the Harding boys were unable to equal it.

PARTICIPANTS IN GREAT MURDER

THE AXEHANDLE MURDER

Another famous murder trial will take place since Newtina Axehandle (center) was discovered stabbed near the center compartments by the janitress (lower right) while raking leaves. The rake was drawn across the floating ribs of the dead woman which caused them to sink. Newtina let out a violent shriek and bit the rake into a million pieces. Upon investigation, the floor mopper found not one but two hundred bodies. Weneeda Flormat (lower center) was the other victim; but as it is too expensive, a trial will not be held for her. The janitress immediately referred the matter to the Katrina Defective Agency who called their chief disective, Uava Badkof (3rd. row center) from a case in the cellar to the mystery case. Disguised pictures of Uava are that of a sick cat (lower left corner) and an inmate of the insane asylum (2nd row right center). The disective went to the home of Newtina and found only the negro cook (second row left) working diligently on a horse-radish pie and a cream cheese milkshake. Since Uava was anxious to get back to the case in the cellar and also did not suspect anything, he proceeded to leave the house; and when he stepped on the four inch door mat, heard a slight grunt. He had stepped on something soft and mushy. Jerking his greasegun, he lifted the mat and found he had stepped upon the head of the beautiful light haired murderess to the state of unconsciousness. Uava rushed to the kitchen and the cook had disappeared but was later found behind a box of cocoa.

When the sleuth returned, the stabberess, Ubya Nuford (1st row left) had regained consciousness and was making an attempt to hide behind the mantle clock. She was recaptured and slung in the hoosgow.

As soon as the maid pays off the jury the trial will proceed.

The defendent (3rd row left), Inockem Klearout, will lay her case on the sole grounds that the murdered girl wanted her back rubbed and as nothing else could be found a knife was used and Newtina accidently stepped backwards.

Since the house of Ubya is infested with fleas, the convict was hunting them under the doormat as the disective stepped on her. And as for the maid hiding behind the box of cocoa, the lawyer will claim she was playing "hide and go seek" with the kitty.

The prosecutor (upper right), Georgetta Sourgrape, will charge the convict with first degree murder. Although no apple was found, the prosecutor will claim that Newtina and Ubya were quarreling over one and as Ubya started to cut the apple the knife slipped and dove into Newtina's Poasties.

The judge (upper center), Isleep Thrutrial, is now advertising for an able-bodied wide awake person to keep him awake during the trial by pinching him.

There will be two juries, one for the defendant and one for the prosecutor. Light refreshments will be served and jewsharp music will be played by Ignats Playatunski (5th row center). He will strike off the pathetic strains of "The Varsity Drag," "St. Louis Blues" and a few others.

The murderess seems to be affected by the killing as she bit off the ear and finger of a reporter and swallowed his note-book whole. The janitress expects to sue Newtina for the broken rake and the time spent in hunting for the disective.
